A special Chan Meditation Session will be held at the City of Ten Thousand Buddhas starting Sunday evening, June 17, and continuing through Sunday evening, June 24. On Sunday afternoon, before the session begins, orientation and introductory instruction will be offered in meditation for those unfamiliar with this traditional Buddhist practice. The session is especially suited to students, but everyone is welcome to apply for attendance.

A series of four weekend conferences will take place from 9 July through 10 August, 1990, on the theme Buddhism and the Modern World. This series is open to the general public. Each weekend will be devoted to the relationship between Buddhism and one of the following themes: the environment, science, education, the family.

A wide variety of courses will be offered for university credit and for non-credit students. Simultaneously, Instilling Goodness Elementary Schools and Developing Virtue Junior High and High Schools (the boys' schools and the girls' schools) will be holding a four-week summer session with an optional fifth week for attending the Gwan Yin Bodhisattva Recitation Session and Celebrations.
